the night, wich is my kingdom.
I am like a vampire, I move in at night,
I release my anger, I expose my eyes to darkness and see, experience. The morning is my way back, the last gas-station before 500 miles of dessert.

This is your chance to see what what he's experienced. We show proof, evidence, insight; open up and He'll let you in, no warm welcome, just grey concrete, industry and escalators. And no sensless chit-chat, beat around the bush crap. Straight into it, going down, Maday mayday! 2002

THE DOWN AND DIRTY SOUTH

old skool NASH, 1988

old skool NASH, 1989

HISTORY OF THE SOUTH

Limburg, This is a particular area in the south of Holland, and when we say south we mean down and dirty south, wich has three main cities. Maastricht is probably the most known to people since this is the largest of the three, then we have Heerlen and last but not least you have Sittard. Wich brings us to the beginning of Dutch graffiti in Limburg.

old skool H.O.F "Tennishal-emperial"

MAASTRICHT

For the real graffiti creditz in Maastricht we look at guys like "YOSH" and "TRAZ" they were the first to do pieces, some guys went before them but with tags ..but the names they wrote ar for us onknown..

Old skool flix from Josh and Traz, 1989

SITTARD

Around 1980 a guy whom we now know as "NASH" got into Hiphop culture together with a good friend of his "JUNE". They started writing in the early 80`s, inspired by albumcovers, consisting of fresh old skool pieces and colourfull drawings, no signs of Spraycanart in those days. So in 1982 they decided to do a piece of their own, at this time in surrounding cities like Maastricht and Heerlen hiphop got up. And with that graffiti started to show up in tags mostly, down in the south. In Sittard "NASH" was doing legal and illegal pieces all with the same name, he got up in graff as he did in newspapers....
he got busted in 1991.

NASH - KORE, 1991

THE DOWN AND

THE HISTORY OF THE SOUTH

HEERLEN

o and untill this time Graffiti in Heerlen had not yet grown from it's tag-scene, guys like "RAP" and "ANGEL" killed that city with bombing. From 1991 nd on cities got their own hall of fame, "Emmafabriek" and "Tennishal-emperial" in which local writers like "CART", "CYZE" and "DAEZE" with his SW crew ung out, or an occasional visitor from outside of Limburg and everybody got up.

One of the legandary south side H.O.F called "EMMA- FABRIEK". This is A big production from NASH and his SW crew. Back in the days.

PART 2

ow with these high times for mural graff, it couldn't stay away, and it didn't. A crew called " 203 " became known for it's all out destroing character, ys like "CART", "CYZE", "RIEM", "MINE" , "JETE" , "SAZE", "SMAK" and "THEM" got up and killed shit throughout Holland but the main target was still the ty south. These Guys made sure that Heerlen was put on the map, going all out, on walls (legal/illegal) and trains within and outside the borders of lland.

DIRTY SOUTH.

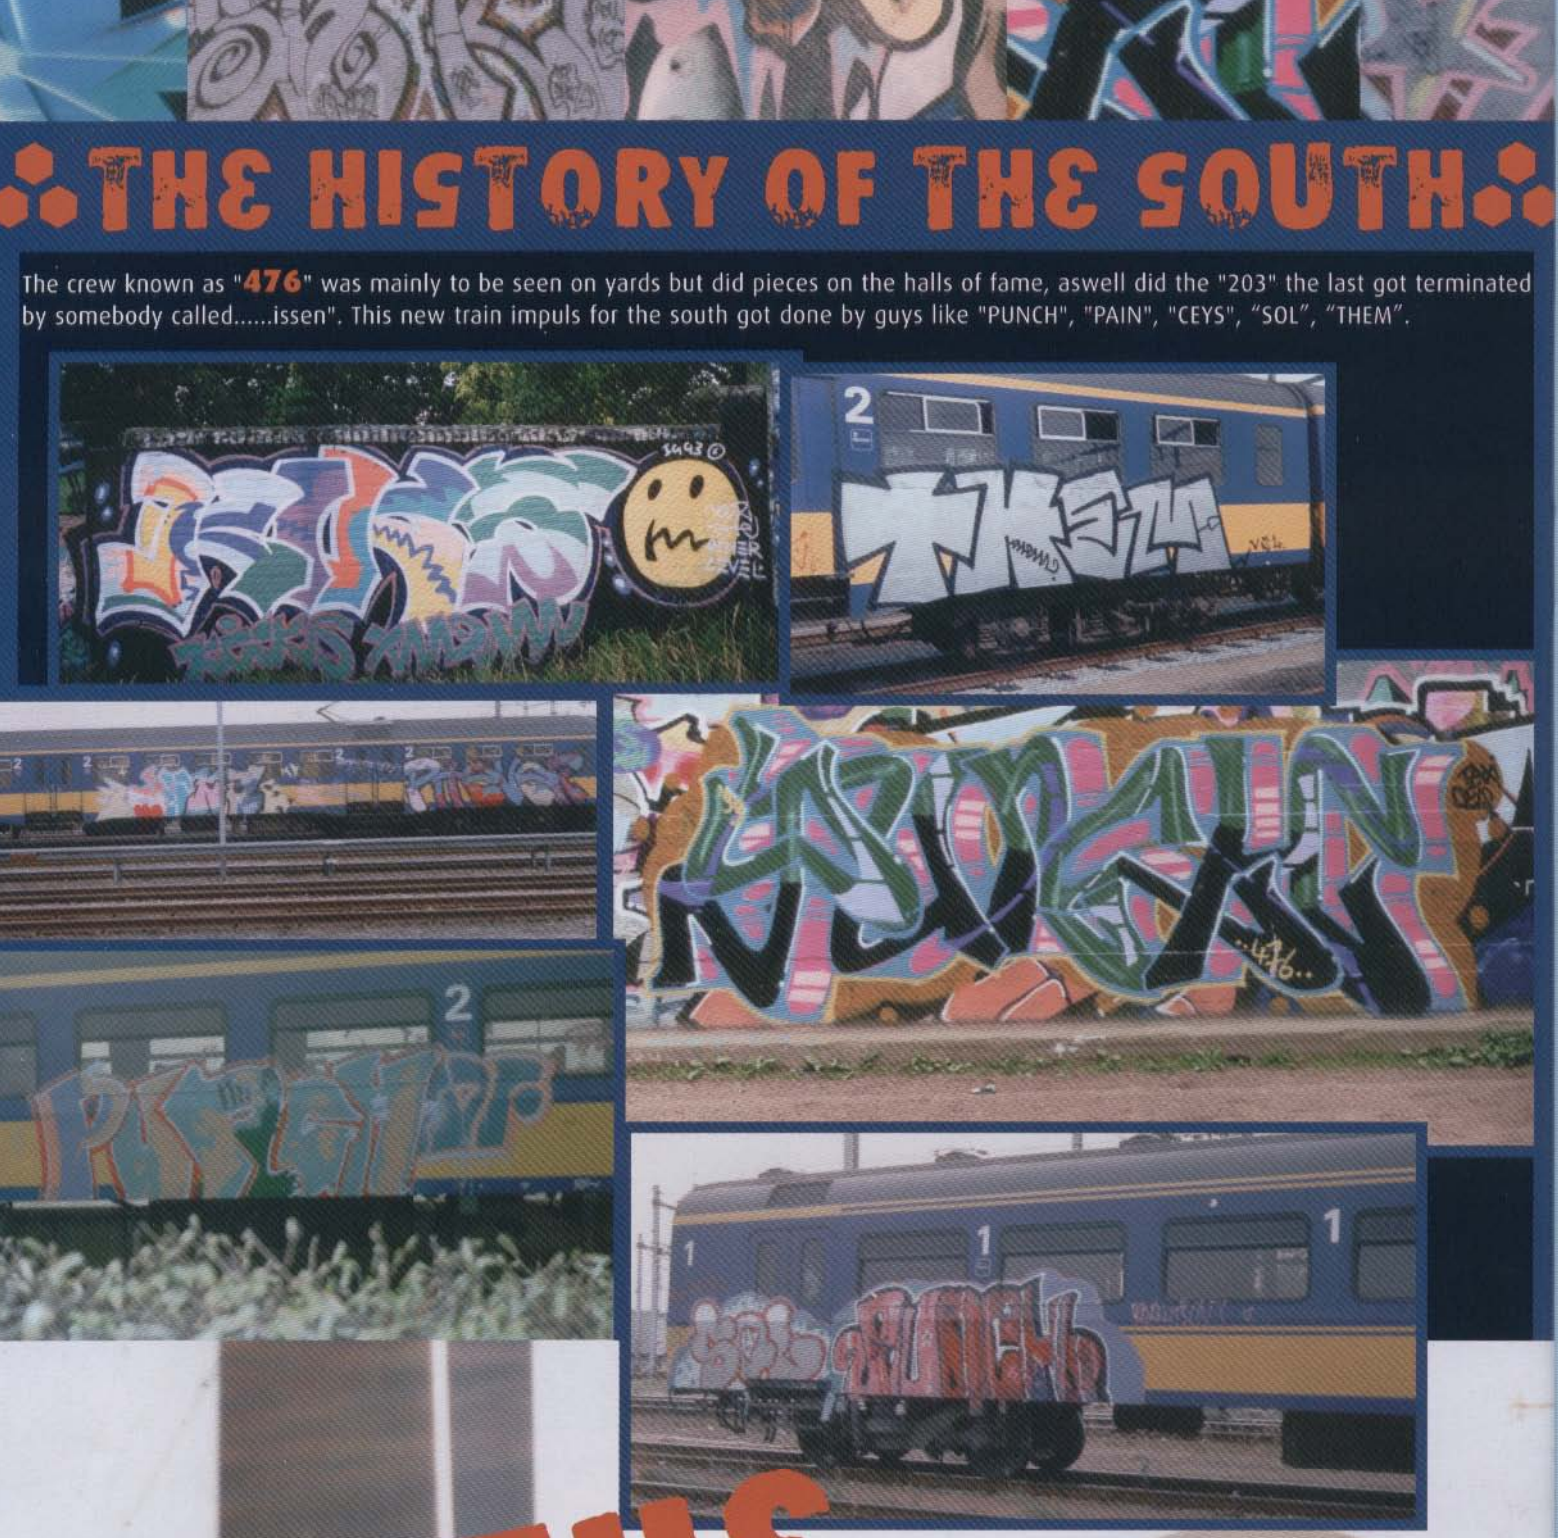
In the next couple of years a new hall of fame came along in the small city of Sittard in wich some new writers appeared and some kept it up. "NASH" was still going strong together with his crew called SW in this new hall of fame called " Campina " (an old milkfactory) this spot became famo throughout Holland and many writers visited. Now that many styles appeared and locals like the "WHO" crew got better, pieces became of great quality.....

The SW crew with guys like "DAEZE", "POWE", "CHEN", "CYZE" and "NASH" were rocking the H.O.F, with for that time, big quality productions like these for example.

But to all good things comes an end and the factory got torn down. All the hall of fame action went to Heerlen "Emmafabriek" and the Maastricht hall of fame, as a new crew entered the tracks.

THE HISTORY OF THE SOUTH

The crew known as "476" was mainly to be seen on yards but did pieces on the halls of fame, aswell did the "203" the last got terminated by somebody called.....issen". This new train impuls for the south got done by guys like "PUNCH", "PAIN", "CEYS", "SOL", "THEM".



THE DOWN AND DIRTY SOUTH...

After most of the action, and we speak of the year 1994,95..., it ble to death. Nowadays you still see "NASH" with the newskool writer as STANCE and CASROC getting up, in Maastricht you'll find DRON and JESSIC; the legal part. Others whom are not to be named still g strong on many fronts, BUT will the south rise again ????

Puzler

Melbourne Victoria

With its 4 seasons in day climate this city resembles one of europes metropoles. A good place for graffiti-visitors, as any australian city their are plenty of cheap places to sleep, backpacking in a word. With its big train system (now operated by Connex who also operates the swedish-metro, commuter trains in London and Dusseldorf) and old graff-scene it has produced some internationaly known graffiti-fame for example Puzle. Since Australia is quite isolated most of the locals prefer to travel nationally instead of oveseas, that's why Melburn-trains got thrashed hard wich resulted in australias first Vandal-squad. On the walls things are quite similar to europe, pieces can be found on the outskirts but allso along the lines and even closer to the city's centre like Fitzroy, a nice place to have a look. All in all Melburn's worth a visit, maybe even more.

Sydney New South Wales

Once a penal colony (for English convicts), Sydney still has a big group of young outlaws; doing graffiti. Their ancestors build them a huge S-train type system, english style, partly underground. As everything in this country they build their trains XXL, Airconditioned Doublestock and the newer Tangara type trains (the fish-bowl trains). Trains are painted on a regular bases, but cops and even company workers are very keen on catching offenders, not always treating them in a 'nice manner'. This city is bigger than Melbourne and more 'American' styled. The innercity is 'clean' and even the trainlines get buffed monthly, you'll have to seek for graffiti. Glebe and Surry hills are places to find some nice murals by artists such as Atom and Brick, for cheap hostels you'll have to go to the cross (Kings-cross), wich is a sort of red light district.

The hottest place we will cover in this special, litterally. It seems they make it a sport to spend as much money on the prevention of graffiti as possible, Their are 360% moving camera on train-yards, and a 'guard' on every train. But Brizzo, as locals call it, is still home to some of Australias infamous trainbombers putting their name up, now mostly backjump style. The innercity looked like a mix of london-newyork-tokio, clean, skyscrapers and hardly any graffiti. Once you remove yourself from the centre more and more pieces come your way. But don't be fooled a lot of them aren't that old, brizzo's cleaners are active.

Ofcourse there is more to see and experience than these 3 cities, get a lonely planet guide,a ticket and sunscreenmilk and send us your flixxx!
